

WHMIS

Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System

Attention Managers - Health & Safety Supervisors

WorkSafeBC's OHS Regulation Part 5.3: WHMIS requires the employer to establish and maintain an effective WHMIS program where hazardous products and materials are used in the workplace. The program must include worker education and training which covers the elements of the WHMIS program, major hazards in the workplace, rights and responsibilities, and content required on labels and Safety Data Sheets. This course has been updated to reflect the 2015 standards for incorporating the Globally Harmonized System (GHS) in Canada.
